

January 2009

Fisher Development Celebrates Topping Off Of Crystal Point

Fisher Development Associates has announced the Topping Off of Crystal Point, the iconic new condominium building rising high above the dazzling Hudson River along Jersey City, NJ's waterfront. Construction workers recently hoisted the last steel beam into place at the distinctive 42-story building which features 269 premium residences.

"The Topping off is significant for several reasons," says Brian Fisher, a development principal. "It indicates the highest structural point in the building's construction has been attained and is a time to celebrate the hard work and safe efforts of the construction team. It also means we're one step closer to bringing this remarkable new offering of condominium homes and resort-style amenities to the market."

Designed by noted architectural firm Gruzen Samton, Crystal Point is situated a mere 25 ft from the Hudson River on the final piece of developable waterfront land in Jersey City that directly faces Manhattan. Each home will have magnificent water and skyline views stretching from Lower Manhattan to the George Washington Bridge, a rare advantage.

The stunning new landmark offers magnificently appointed one, two and three bedroom home designs, an extensive offering of resort-like amenities and services to create an upscale living experience unrivaled on either side of the river.